Alliances with Thai cuisine...

The Blue Elephant restaurants have always distinguished themselves by going off the beaten track and offering an innovative and interesting wine list.

With years of experience in tasting, we feel honored to share with you some of our knowledge:

- With spicy food, 'acidic' and 'woody' wines are best avoided.
- Sweet wines always complement best hot dishes as they soften the 'fire' effect.

Generally speaking, Alsace white wines and some from the Loire Valley are a perfect match with Thai food (fried dishes, sweet and sour salads, yellow and green curries) and it is certainly interesting to experience sweet whites with our spicy dishes!

Although rosé wines can be suitable for some dishes. We prefer those with character such as Tavel, Bandol, etc...or sweet ones such as Cabernet d'Anjou, Rosé d'Anjou... Why not try these wines with our sweet and sour dishes?

Chilled red wines with a light, fresh and sharp flavour (Alsace, Loire, Beaujolais,...) are more suitable with dishes that are not very hot. We personally find that the marriage with red curries and spices will be done with wines from Côtes du Rhône and Languedoc-Roussillon where the sun, fruit and spices can be found.

Within this wine list, are the wines that we particularly value.
