■ Occupying an officially designated historic mansion that has been renovated at no small cost, the 200-seater eatery has been open for six years. The menu is extensive, offering more than 100 items. To celebrate its sixth anniversary, the restaurant has also created an additional menu focusing on long forgotten and rarely found Thai dishes. Recommendations include yum ped yang nam pheung, or grilled duck breast salad with organic honey and Royal Project longan (580 baht), gaeng khi lek nuea yang, or cassod tree leaves curry with grilled beef (420 baht), as well as the best-selling black chicken green curry with roti bread (550 baht). Open daily 11:30am-2:30pm and 6:30-10:30pm.
